

Daihatsu Starts Accepting Pre-orders for New Mini Crossover TAFT

* Vehicle with plating package (dealer's option)

Daihatsu Co., Ltd. (hereinafter “Daihatsu”) announced it has started accepting pre-orders from today for the new mini crossover TAFT exhibited at Tokyo Auto Salon 2020. The TAFT is expected to be launched in June 2020.

As part three of the Daihatsu New Global Architecture (DNGA), the TAFT is a crossover between a mini passenger vehicle and a SUV that can be used in both everyday and leisure scenes. Its name comes from the initials of its “Tough & Almighty Fun Tool” concept.

Information regarding pre-orders and TAFT will be gradually released on the special site within Daihatsu’s official web site.

<URL of special site>

<https://www.daihatsu.co.jp/lineup/taft/special/index.html>

Going forward, Daihatsu will continue to provide the optimal mobility to every one of its customers, and cater to their needs through its extended range of mini vehicles and compact cars based on the approach of “Light you up.”